If you didn't provide your passport number when submitting your application, the initial password is 666666.

If you have further inquiry about WiFi, please contact the Information Office of Fudan University:

Tel: 86-21-65643207,

Email: urp@fudan.edu.cn.

Part Eight Life in Shanghai

1. Financial Service

It is advised that you exchange some RMB cash on your arrival in Shanghai. You can find some banks providing currency exchange service at the exit of the airport. It is reasonable for you to keep a few hundred RMB at hand for daily use.

Many banks in Shanghai provide currency exchange service. You can exchange foreign currency for RMB conveniently.

Cards issued by most of the international credit card organizations can be identified by the ATMs in China. Among them, the most widely acceptable ones are VISAs and Master Cards. Some others, such as American Express, Diners, Discovery and JCB are also acceptable, but can only be identified by a few ATMs in the city center. Therefore, we suggest you take a VISA card to China.

2. Public Transportation

The public transportation system in Shanghai consists of the Rail System, the Bus System and taxis.

The rail system includes Metro and Meglev, 12 lines in total. The Bus System is composed of buses, Airport Expresses, etc. Generally, wherever you would like to go in Shanghai, you can take the Metro, get off at the nearest stop and take a bus or a taxi to the destination. The nearest Metro station to Fudan University is Jiangwan Stadium Station of Line 10.

You can check Shanghai Metro Network Map on <http://iso.fudan.edu.cn/downloads/shmetro.jpg>.

3. Commercial Centers

The nearest commercial center to Fudan University is Wujiaochang, 20 minutes' walk from the International Students Dormitory.

The city center of Shanghai is People's Square. You can get there by taking Bus 537 outside the International Students Dormitory.

4. Food and Drinks

You can use your e-campus card to eat at the dining hall. Reference price of a meal in the dining hall: two dishes with a bowl of rice will cost approximately RMB 8. Breakfast is served between 6:30 am - 9:00 am, lunch between 11:00 am - 1:00 pm, and supper between 5:00 pm - 7:00 pm. You can also get some snacks in the dining hall before 10:00 pm.

Please keep it in your mind that you cannot drink tap-water before boiling it. If you are allergic to some food, please pay attention to the ingredients of the food you eat.

There are a number of restaurants around the campus, serving either local specialties or cuisines of different countries in the world.

5. Hospital

The College Hospital provides a 24-hour service in case you become sick. Near Fudan University is Changhai Hospital, a state-run hospital, providing high-quality, comprehensive health care. In addition, there are 10 hospitals affiliated to Fudan University, providing first-class medical treatment.
